

Playtest Feedback Report

- Hyprrland (Wayland) compatibility: Running the game on Hyprrland caused unstable window focus, making it difficult to interact with menus properly, and it wasn't possible to use the mouse at the same time as using the keyboard.
- Resolution switching: When changing the screen resolution, the image doesn't scale correctly to fit the display.
- Windowed vs maximized: These two display options appear reversed or mislabeled.
- Weapon reload: I couldn't reload the rifle manually. The only workaround was to drop it, pick it back up, and re-equip it to restore ammunition.
- Controller input: I wasn't able to test this since I don't currently own a controller.
- Drowning system: The player character never seemed to drown, no matter how long they stayed underwater.
- Vehicle physics: Cars can climb vertical surfaces and even exit the map by driving up mountains.
